More than a piece of jewelry, the Ringuardian is a keepsake that honors your relationship.

You've lost a loved one, but you don't have to lose the memories you created together over time. One way to keep those memories is through precious personal possessions. And one that you can hold dear is a special ring, such as a wedding ring or keepsake ring. Never forget that special someone by keeping a meaningful part of them with you.

Crafted in solid sterling silver, the Ringuardian transforms that special ring into a beautiful remembrance necklace. By wrapping the ring so it is securely protected, it creates a lasting tribute to honor the memories of your loved one for generations to come.

Ringuardian® securely protects the ring, while still making it effortless to remove.
